

1. How Much Is ENOUGH: Hungering for God in an Affluent Culture by Arthur Simon (CEO Bread for the World), 2003

A book by the CEO and founder of the "Bread for the World" organization poses thoughtful questions on simply living from a Lutheran biblical perspective. It includes many good practical suggestions on "living more simply" and why ecojustice is essential for social justice in the world.

2. Soul Centering Through Nature: Becoming a True Human Adult, CD presentation by Fr. Richard Rohr, OFM and Bill Plotkin, Ph.D.
- 3.

Two-CD set of a webinar presented in 2011 at the Center for Action and Contemplation (available for loan from Ecological Advocate Office).

3. Walk Out Walk On: A Learning Journey into Communities Daring to Live the Future Now by Margaret Wheatley and Deborah Frieze.

Synopsis: This is a must read for anyone who believes in achieving social justice and peace on earth. Meg Wheatley and Deborah Frieze invite you on a learning journey to seven communities around the world to meet people who have walked out of limiting beliefs and assumptions and walked on to create healthy and resilient communities. Deb and Meg document how with a little guidance, community leadership can emerge from even the poorest communities and with locally identified needs identified by these poor their own ingenuity and caring is all that is needed to figure out how to work with what they have to create what they need. From Mexico to India, from Columbus, Ohio, to Johannesburg, South Africa, we discover that every community has the ingenuity, intelligence and inventiveness to solve their seemingly insolvable problems. "We discovered a gift inside ourselves," one Brazilian said, "something that was already there." A must read for anyone with a concern for the minors of today's world.

4. In the Footsteps of Francis: Awakening to Creation - 80 minute CD (audio) was a webcast done by Fr. Richard Rohr, OFM.

A presentation that defines what it means to "be drawn" in and to life rather than "drive." The healing powers of nature benefits in the tradition of St. Francis are presented. Wonderful "food for thought" that includes an insightful reflection on the Canticle of Brother Sun/Creatures by Francis of Assisi.
